

Position: STAFF ARCHAEOLOGIST

Panamerican Consultants, Inc. is a cultural resource consulting firm with offices in Alabama, Florida, New York, and Tennessee. The company has immediate openings for Staff Archaeologists working out of the Memphis, Tennessee and the Tuscaloosa, Alabama facilities. This mid-level position requires an M.A. in Anthropology/ Archaeology or a closely related field. We are looking for a candidate with good writing and organizational skills that is capable of managing compliance projects with minimal corporate oversight. The Staff Archaeologist's duties will include conducting records checks, managing and directing fieldwork (Phase I, II, and III), completing state site forms, and the preparation of CRM reports. Most projects will occur in the southeastern region; thus candidates familiar with the archaeology in this region are preferred. Compensation for this full time position includes salary and benefits, including paid vacation and holidays, health coverage, and a 401K plan. Salary will be negotiated and will be commensurate with experience.
